Pure Intelligence

Nobody gives you more course content – or better content – than PureSafety, with more than 300 courses covering all aspects of Environmental, Health and Safety (EHS) and Human Resources (HR) compliance. Our EHS suite will help change behaviors, prevent injuries and, most importantly, save lives. Our HR suite will help you improve workforce performance and reduce your exposure to employment and labor law claims.

Average course length is just 30–45 minutes and most are available in both English and Spanish. New and updated courses are added every month to help meet your ever-changing training requirements.

PureSafety courses include intuitive navigation, relevant graphics and information to create the ultimate learning experience.

We follow sound instructional design and adult learning methodology to build content. Our in-house team of content development experts devote more than 400 hours on the development of each PureSafety course. The following unique features are designed to improve employee learning and aid information retention:
